PULLMAN-HOLT Magnet Spray

Magnet Spray produces a highly charged, high-speed air stream that applies chemicals up to 70 times more efficiently than conventional sprayers. A revolutionary patented nozzle design uses compressed air and advanced solid-state circuitry to produce a 12 foot plume consisting of very small, like size, electrically charged droplets. This perfect cloud of evenly spaced droplets is attracted to targeted areas like a magnet, wrapping around the tops, sides and bottoms of surfaces to provide a superior, uniform coating. This remarkable phenomenon is called electrostatic "wraparound".
